The Only House in the City Decorated in Honor of the Equity Victory

The Flag decoration of the Brown Building in East Second street yesterday created considerable comment and wonderment by an unwise public as to the purport of this unusual display of Old Glory on the outer wall. Many were the conjectures. Not a few of his most intimate friends shook their heads sadly as they muttered, "Poor fellow, I expected as much; got his wires crossed at last and now it's a padded cell for our erstwhile strenuous and genial Mike and aspiring candidate for Sheriffalty honors." It was a wrong conclusion, however. The fact is Mr. Brown is an enthusiastic Equity man and he was simply giving vent to his suppressed joyous feelings over the $12,000,-000 tobacco sale; hence the Flag display and general good humor of the Brown household.

ican Tobacco Company, as announced yesterday, has been the engrossing topic of discussion in Kentucky.

In Maysville, where, through the tying up of a million dollars worth of tobacco it has caused a 50% commercial paralysis for the past eighteen months, the successful closing of the deal means certain and instantaneous and normal business resumption.

The effect is already magic in its results and the rejoicing is general and pronounced to the utmost confines of the State. It is safe to say that we should now enter upon a new and a real era of peace and prosperity, and that the "Old Kentucky Home" will again come to the front and come into its own.

By buying 85,000,000 pounds of tobacco from the Burley Society the American Tobacco Company has risen to the occasion and shown that it is broad enough to know how to surrender to the demands of the tobacco growers when the yielding is based on the sound business principle that the thing for sale must go to the highest bidder.

As there was no other concern in the country able and willing to purchase the major portion of the Burley holdings, we think the American Tobacco Company bas more than met the farmer balf way, and the Company should no longer be looked upon as an enemy by the tobacco grower.

Now let's invite and welcome back to Kentucky the great Company that at one time has just made such a great purchase and shown that it wants and must have Kentucky's great product, the unrivaled White Burley Leaf To- Power of Gentleness."

Let's go slow, but sure, and pull for the New and Greater Kentucky by giving strict attention to business and -incidentally -a little more obedience to the law.

We must not forget and lose sight of the fact that one of Mason county's fair and gifted women, Miss Alice Lloyd, is entitled to much of the glory and honor of winning the Equity battle through her brilliant defense of the tobacco growers' side of the great controversy.
